Harwood Hutton, you and important changes to data protection

A new data privacy law, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), is being introduced in the UK.

As a result, we will be publishing, in May, a new Privacy Notice which will make it easier for you to find out how we use and how we secure your personal information.

We will not be changing the way we use your personal information but the new Privacy Notice will give you additional information, such as:

- The type of personal information we collect and how we use it
- How we ensure this personal information is held securely
- The legal basis for us holding and using that personal information
- Your enhanced rights in connection with the personal information we hold about you.

This Privacy Notice will apply to all services we provide to our clients and there will be no changes to our terms and conditions, we are making these personal information-related changes solely to comply with the change in regulation.

By May 25th, 2018 the new Privacy Notice will be available either directly from Harwood Hutton or from our website.
